Dear Senator Merkley and Congresswoman Kiggans:

On behalf of the 65 undersigned organizations representing the Nursing Community Coalition (NCC), we thank you for introducing the Nursing is a Professional Degree Act (S.4568/H.R.8691). The NCC is a cross section of education, practice, research, and regulation within the nursing profession, representing Registered Nurses (RNs), Advanced Practice Registered Nurses (APRNs),¹ nurse leaders, boards of nursing, students, faculty, and researchers. Together, the NCC appreciates the introduction of this vital effort to ensure that advanced nursing education pathways remain strong, and urges Congress to pass the Nursing is a Professional Degree Act this year.

The One Big Beautiful Bill Act (P.L. 119-21) established new annual and aggregate limits on federal student loans for graduate degree programs of $20,500 and $100,000 respectively, compared to $50,000 and $200,000 for professional programs. On May 1, the Department of Education released its Reimagining and Improving Student Education final rule implementing these loan limits. Despite widespread support for nursing, including by more than 160 bipartisan members of Congress, the Department's final rule excluded post-baccalaureate nursing degrees (MSN, DNP, and PhD) from the regulatory definition of professional degree programs. This exclusion comes as the Department acknowledged in the final rule that post-baccalaureate nursing programs meet the three-part criteria put forward by Congress in P.L. 119-21 to be deemed a professional degree.

As we look at investing in the health of our nation, it is evident that post-baccalaureate nurses are a critical part of our health system and that investments in nursing education provide a strong return on investment across the board, particularly for our rural and underserved communities. Given that the Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates that the demand for most APRNs will increase by 35% through 2034,² these new loan limits will have far-reaching consequences for our current and future nursing workforce and the patients they serve. Ensuring that post-baccalaureate nursing students, our future front-line providers, APRNs, faculty, researchers, scientists, and leaders, are included as professional degree programs is essential.

¹ APRNs include certified nurse-midwives (CNMs), certified registered nurse anesthetists (CRNAs), clinical nurse specialists (CNSs) and nurse practitioners (NPs)

As Congress considers ways to support our current and future nursing workforce, and we continue to strive to ensure that nursing is considered a professional degree, we truly appreciate your support by introducing the Nursing is a Professional Degree Act (S.4568/H.R.8691) and strongly encourage the passage of this vital effort this Congress. If the Nursing Community Coalition can be of any assistance to you or your staff, please do not hesitate to contact the coalition's Executive Director, Rachel Minahan at rstevenson@thenursingcommunity.org.
