Brady Bielewicz

Circle of Excellence

Brady Bielewicz is an expert advanced practice provider at UPMC Presbyterian Hospital in Pittsburgh and a program director for AG-ACNP programs at University of Pittsburgh School of Nursing. Throughout his career in trauma critical care, he demonstrated a commitment to improving patient outcomes and fostering professional growth. Brady's leadership in quality improvement includes implementing an evidence-based algorithm for tube feedings that significantly increased patient enteral intake. He mentored a project to increase compliance with a nurse-driven protocol for urinary catheters, reducing inappropriate catheter use by 18%. A dedicated educator, Brady developed and expanded the systemwide Trauma Certified Registered Nurse (TCRN) review course, reaching nearly 500 healthcare employees with a 73% first-attempt pass rate. He is highly engaged with AACN, serving as president of the Three Rivers Chapter and currently as co-chair of the Advanced Practice Institute (API) Program Planning Committee.
