Circle of Excellence

Benjamin Lindsay is a senior nursing professional development specialist for the Adult Critical Care Service at University of Rochester Medical Center in Rochester, New York. A distinguished nurse, educator and change agent, Benjamin holds a BSN and an MSN in education, and is studying to become a clinical nurse specialist. They are dedicated to driving organizational excellence through evidence-based practice and authentic leadership. Benjamin's lasting impact is evidenced by their leadership of a bedside nurse-led Central Line Team, which achieved a 50% reduction in central line-associated bloodstream infections (CLABSIs). Their mentorship and professional development initiatives increased unit nursing certification rates in one year. Benjamin actively promotes inclusion, serving as president of the Greater Rochester Area Finger Lakes Chapter.
