Excellence in Chapter Community Education and Public Service

The AACN Chapter at UCLA consists of dedicated members who inspire each other to promote nursing excellence through shared experiences and a strong commitment to AACN's values. The chapter fosters this excellence through education, mentorship and community service. It offers various educational events, including dinner sessions and an EKG Bootcamp webinar, which create valuable networking and learning opportunities. The chapter partners with local schools to support nursing students by organizing simulations and hosting networking events to facilitate their transition to practice. In addition to focusing on the ICU, the chapter emphasizes volunteerism by collaborating with organizations such as the LA Food Bank, the Hearing Their Voice program for individuals experiencing homelessness, and the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society. These efforts reflect a deep commitment to improving healthcare and community well-being, fully embodying AACN's leadership, education and service mission.
